

OLNEY SUCCEEDS GRESHAM.

APPOINTED BY THE PRESIDENT AS SECRETARY OF STATE.

Judge Harman has been selected as the Attorney General of the United States by the President. He has a most noble record and has accepted the offer by wire.

Washington, June 7.—There was no surprise in any quarter when the announcement was made to-day that Attorney General Olney had been transferred to the office of secretary of state. Since the death of Mr. Gresham it was said in circles impressed by nearness to the administration that no member of the cabinet had been more in accord with the views of the president than Mr. Olney.

Mr. Cleveland in deciding to appoint Mr. Olney to the charge of the state department has only carried out an intention resolved on very shortly after the death of General Gresham and his consultations with leading democrats as to a proper appointment have been very meagre. His determination was expressed at a cabinet meeting last week, and while there were rumors floating about that Mr. Olney would not step higher in the official family, a review of his services in the few but vastly important cases laid before the justices of the supreme court in the session just closed impelled a strong sentiment in administration circles that the president would be apt to demand his services in a higher station.

Assistant Secretary Olney would undoubtedly have been appointed to a cabinet position save for the fact that the president would not dispense with his services in the department. The appointment of Judge Harman was a veritable surprise and had not been considered in the discussion of probable changes in the cabinet. But when Judge Harman's name and career were looked into general endorsement were in evidence everywhere.

Cincinnati, June 7.—Judge Judson Harman, who was to-day appointed attorney general of the United States, is the senior member of the firm of Harman, Colston, Goldsmith & Hoadley, who probably have the most lucrative practice in Cincinnati. He is one of the "young men" of the city, though forty-two years old. He is about six feet two inches in height, athletic in appearance and well preserved, though his hair is slightly tinged with gray. He is regarded by bench and bar of Hamilton county as an able, broad and learned man, and one of the soundest lawyers in the state. Personally Judge Harman is a charming man. Judge Harman comes of old New York stock, and members of his branch still live in and around Jefferson county, in that state. Others more remote live in Suffolk, Conn.

The father of the new attorney general, Rev. B. F. Harman, moved to Ohio in the early 40s. Judson was born in Hamilton county February 3, 1846. He was graduated from the Dennison university, a Baptist school, at Granville, O., in 1866, and three years later he was graduated from the Cincinnati law school. He then formed a partnership with R. T. Durrell and practiced law till 1876, when he was elected judge of the common pleas court. He served on the bench for four months, when he was ousted in favor of Judge Cox by the Ohio senate, before which the contest was made. He returned to his practice, forming a partnership with Judge S. N. Maxwell. In 1878 he was elected a judge of the superior court of Cincinnati and in 1883 was re-elected. In March, 1887, he resigned, when ex-governor Hoadley and Judge Edgar L. Johnson went to New York, and formed the firm of Harman, Colston, Goldsmith & Hoadley, as successors to Hoadley, Johnson & Colston.

In June, 1870, he was married to Miss Jane Scooby, daughter of Dr. W. H. Hoadley of Hamilton county. He has no children. When seen this afternoon Judge Harman was engaged upon a letter to the president. He had accepted the offer by wire. He stated that until this morning he had not the remotest idea that he was being considered. The first intimation he had was a message from a president received at 10 o'clock asking if he would accept the position. He consulted his partners and his wife and is afternoon accepted.

"I consider the offer a call to duty," said this afternoon. "I will go to Washington in a few days and will assume charge as soon as practicable." Judge Harman will not sever his connection with his firm.

HE IS IN EARNEST.

Harman Has Made a Deposit of Five Thousand Dollars.

I do not care of his racing under the circumstances, but you watch the actions of a man and you will find that he will accept Arthur's conditions. Arthur race him."

in Waterbury.

Waterbury, June 7.—C. Art Ward tonight served an injunction against Treasurer Byrnes of the center school district, seven members of the board of education and five members of the district committee restraining them from paying the balance of $20,000 for a high school site on the property of the heirs of James Brown on Main street, on the ground that the district meeting has not voted to purchase the site and the price is excessive. The district committee and board of education jointly voted to buy the site without consulting a district committee, as required by the charter of the district, and have paid down $5,000 of the $20,000.

The center district embraces the entire city, and the selection of a high school site is a matter of great importance.

FIRE FANNED BY FLAMES

GREAT DESTRUCTION DONE BY FIRE IN MIDDLETOWN.

A Strong Easterly Wind Kept the Firemen Very Busy—Mayor Vinal Telegraphed to Hartford for Assistance But It Was Later Countervailed—All of the Horses in Stable Stables Were Saved.

Middletown, June 7.—One of the worst fires that has ever occurred in this city broke out at 9:30 this evening in Smith & Harris' livery stables, located on Court street, in the heart of the business portion of the city. The stable was four stories high, 100x40 feet, constructed of brick and frame work. The fire was first discovered by a hostler employed by Smith & Harris, when he discovered smoke issuing from the hay loft. He rushed to ring in an alarm, but before he reached the box the flames broke out through the roof and soon a fierce fire was raging. There was a fresh wind blowing and the flames ran back to the stable of W. O. Carrier on Center street. In this block, bounded by Center, Court and Main streets, are situated a number of small frame buildings, ramshackle in construction. By the time that the fire department arrived on the scene the flames had gained great headway and leaped across a narrow passageway in the rear of Smith & Harris' stable to Carrier's place.

The strong easterly wind that was blowing at the time brought the flames over the roofs of the small frame buildings situated in between the stable and by the time that the four fire companies got to work on the fire a fierce fire was raging. From Smith & Harris' stable the flames communicated to a one and a half story frame structure adjoining the west side of the barn and occupied by W. P. Barnes, veterinary surgeon; E. G. Rogers, express agent, and the "Mirror" saloon, owned by August Johnson. This building was completely destroyed. The German restaurant, which also occupied one of the stores in the block on Court street, was burned out. At 9:40 o'clock the fire was burning so fiercely that the business portion in the vicinity were threatened by the flames. The firemen were not making much progress towards checking the flames, and as a precautionary measure Mayor Vinal, who was on the scene, telegraphed to Hartford asking for assistance. This order was, however, countermanded later, when the local firemen succeeded in getting the fire under control, and it was thought that there would be no necessity for the Hartford firemen's services.

At 10:30 the front wall of Smith & Harris' stable fell into the street and Elijah Metcalf, a member of Douglas House company, was struck by a piece of a brick and injured so that he had to be taken home. Besides the buildings mentioned that were burned were three barns on the Chaffee estate and the barn belonging to R. H. Pease & Son. The old Chaffee block had a narrow escape from the flames. The total loss to-night is placed at $75,000.

So far as can be learned to-night the individual losses are as follows: Smith & Harris, $10,000; partly insured on stock, on building $500; W. O. Carrier & Co., $5,000; E. G. Rogers, $500; August Johnson, $500; German restaurant, $500. Only one of the one hundred or more horses that were stabled in the several barns was lost in the flames, and that belonging to Dr. Campbell, who valued the animal at $500.

All of the sixty horses in Smith & Harris' stable were taken out in safety. A number of carriages on the second floor were destroyed. Carrier & Co. also lost several carriages. At one time when the fire threatened to move down Main street the merchants in the neighborhood began work of moving out their goods.

Swept Away Like Toys.

London, June 7.—A dispatch to the Daily News says that a storm yesterday caused a flood in the Roberndorf valley, near Oedenburg, Western Hungary. The dispatch adds that hail storms in the valley of the Leitha have destroyed all hopes of a harvest.

CONDITION OF TRADE.

Bradstreets Says Speculation is Less Conspicuous.

New York, June 7.—Bradstreets to-morrow will say:

The speculative spirit is still less conspicuous in all lines. Demand for staple goods in a number of instances is smaller, notably at Boston, Pittsburgh, Chicago and Kansas City. The feature of the week, as heretofore, is the continued list of advances in prices, notably those for iron and steel, and the upward movement of bank clearings. Higher prices are recorded for some cotton goods, shoes, hides, leather, paper, pig iron, steel, galvanized iron, black sheets, canned goods, hogs, wheat, corn, oats and some grades of wheat flour. Prices for live cattle, wool, coal and lumber are reported unchanged and firm while silver, cotton petroleum and hard alone are noteworthy as showing lower prices than last week. Bank clearings show a total for the past six business days of $1,131,000,000, the largest week's total in two years.

The number of failures this week were 236, against 207 one year ago. There is no change in trade conditions at Montreal, where crop prospects are favorable. Trade has been fair at Toronto, with better collections and a favorable outlook. Nova Scotia crop prospects are excellent, which also true of New Brunswick. There are twenty-seven failures reported from the Canadian dominion, against thirty-seven a year ago. Bank clearings at Winnipeg, Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax aggregate $22,633,000 this week, against $19,900,000 a year ago.

The dispatch says:

"You are authorized to state the answer of the Oxford athletic committee to Mr. Geylin simply formally acknowledged the receipt of an intimation that the University of Pennsylvania's Athletic association intended to send a challenge and promised to duly consider such a challenge conjointly with the Cambridge university committee. DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION NOT TO BE HELD ON SILVER QUESTION.

Chairman Harvitt Says That He Believes That the Calling of One could be Harmful to the Country—At This Time He Has No Views to Express on the Money Question.

Philadelphia, June 7.—Chairman Harvitt of the democratic national convention committee, has written the following in answer to queries regarding the possibility of a democratic national convention to take action on the subject of silver:

"I do not expect or intend to call a meeting of the committee until next winter, when it will meet to fix the time and place for holding the democratic national convention of 1896 unless I shall be requested to do so by the requisite number of members of the committee. I do not believe there is any necessity for a convention at this time. On the contrary I am of the opinion that to call one would be harmful to the business interests of the country and prejudicial to the welfare of the party."

When called upon to-day Mr. Harvitt said that he had no views to express at this time on the money question and had nothing whatever to say further than is contained in the above letter.

New York, June 7.—The editor of the Eastern Argus of Portland, Me., has sent the following to the Mail and Express:

Portland, Me., June 7.—Mr. Arthur Sewall, democratic national committee man from Maine, does not represent the sentiment of the democracy of this state in his approval of the action of the Illinois free silver convention. There are silver democrats in Maine and they are not despicable in point of numbers, but the great majority of the party stands by the Cleveland administration on this question and holds that free silver is undesirable unless undertaken by international agreement. Most of the silver men in Maine belong to the populist party, though some are in both democratic and republican ranks.

A MAGNIFICENT SUCCESS.

An Immense Audience Enjoyed the Foot
Guard's Brilliant Entertainment at the Hyperion Last Evening—Features of the Program—New Special Features To-night.

The second night of the Foot Guard's entertainment, "Realism in Art," was most successful, the audience being very large and very enthusiastic. Everything passed off in the most perfect manner. There were no delays and no slips, and the greatest possible praise is due the management. Every feature of last night's program was good. First the boys from the public schools sang their patriotic songs under Professor Jepson's direction. Then the dancers from the Casino gave their entertainment. Next came the first series of pictures. These were fully described in yesterday's "Journal and Courier." The posing and lighting were perfect. Miss Alice Campbell Francis of New York posed in two of this series and two of the next, and is remarkably good in pose and facial expression, especially in "Molly Pitcher," where the attitude is so tense. Miss Sadie Thompson has a beautiful contralto voice and sings with good style. She was encored after her singing of Robert Franz's "Autumn Song."

Next Mr. Perkins gave his recitations and songs, and quite sustained his reputation as a clever entertainer. The second series of pictures was given and excited as much applause as at the first performance. Every performer in these tableaux has a distinct pose, and the groupings and ensemble effects are splendidly artistic. They are by far the best "living pictures" we have seen here and are much more satisfactory than the attempts to reproduce the nude that have been given in New York.

After this second series little Mildred Richards sang and danced. She is a delightful young person and the audience was quick to show its appreciation. Frank Edgar sang with good effect and pleasing style. Miss Minnie Belle Kay appeared by special request instead of Miss Francis. Miss Kay is a great favorite and was heartily cheered. She recited Tennyson's "Lady Clare" with charming simplicity and showed a perfect appreciation of the poem, not only in the characterization and dialogue, but by never losing sight of the fact that she was reciting poetry and giving just the proper rhythmic effects. The tableaux of the third series were very elaborate. Then came the Mandolin club, who always play well under Mr. Johnson's leadership.

The tableau most eagerly awaited was the "Living Descent," comprising Edward G. Reicher, warden of Trinity church, Lieutenant James M. Townsend and Lawyer Jason P. Thompson. The Easter hymn of the Trinity choir boys is a most impressive feature. Miss Ross, danced her serpentine dance with exquisite grace and received a magnificent bunch of roses. The affair closed with an elaborate finale, in which all the favorites appeared.

Colonel Fred Grant was unavoidably detained in New York by a trial which required his presence in court. He telegraphed his regrets and thanked the company for their courtesy.

Boomer of New York furnished the costumes and Muller of New York the wigs. To-night Miss Elizabeth Kunz will recite. Great credit is due the Philharmonic orchestra for their really admirable music at these entertainments under the leadership of Mr. Frank Picht. Much credit is also due Mr. Albert Ogert, staking and mounting of this production admirably. The incidental music was composed by William J. Rostetter of New York.

There will be no Foot Guard matinee, but there will be a grand performance to-night and many important changes in the first part of the entertainment. The lights will be properly and skillfully managed. Miss Ross will appear to greater advantage, and the Dutch specialties will be entirely omitted. There will be some new pictures and the final tableau of the states will include the entire company of the Foot Guard and the patriotic school boys of Professor Jepson, who were so loudly cheered in their songs last evening. The Trilby dance is also omitted and the changes add greatly to the enjoyment of this most unique, elegant and instructive evening with the Foot Guard at the Hyperion.
